The National Indian Gaming Association announced this month that registration is now open for the 2019 Indian Gaming Tradeshow & Convention which will be held April 1-4 in San Diego, California at the San Diego Convention Center. This year's event is expected to be the largest to date with more than 6,000 tribal leaders and gaming professionals and over 300 leading gaming suppliers.

"After a very successful event in Las Vegas, we are excited to continue the momentum and bring Indian Country back to San Diego for the 2019 tradeshow and convention," commented National Indian Gaming Association Chairman Ernie Stevens, Jr. "This year's event will have even more networking, education, new products and services, and events to celebrate the success of Indian Country. We thank the California tribal nations for hosting us in their great state."

Known for the robust education program, the 2019 conference will again feature sessions on operations, sports betting, women in gaming, and much more. New for this year, there will be a focus on supporting the mid-size operation. In addition, there will be more education sessions taking place on the first day of the event – and attendees can expect to see many additional sessions added to the Monday Conference schedule, which had previously been a Pre-Conference day with limited education tracks.

The exhibit hall will once again feature leading gaming suppliers, National Indian Gaming Association associate members, and new exhibitors. Already confirmed for 2019 include: Scientific Games, Aristocrat Technologies, Interblock Gaming, Ainsworth Game Technology, IGT, Atrient, Novomatic, Everi, Aruze, Aries Technology, AGS, Konami Gaming, Gaming Arts LLC, Merkur Gaming, Gaming Arts, LLC, Incredible Technologies, and many more. With the enhanced schedule, the National Indian Gaming Association has made it more cost effective for attendees to attend all events with the Super Platinum Plus pass, which has a new lowered rate of $1,499. This all-inclusive pass provides access to two days of education on Monday, April 1 and Tuesday, April 2, the Chairman's Leadership Award Luncheon featuring special honorees, and two days of tradeshow floor access.
